Rule 96 of the Defence of India Rules provides for the making of rules for the assessment and payment of compensation for loss sustained in respect of property used for purposes of defence in pursuance of the following provisions of the Defence of India Rules:

Rule 49. Evacuation of areas for meeting actual or apprehended attacks by enemy.

Rule 66. Requisitioning of vessels, etc.

Rule 72. Requisitioning of air-craft, etc.

Rule 76. Requisitioning of buildings and premises.

Rule 78. Power to do any work on lands or to prohibit the doing of any work on such lands.

Rule 79. Requisitioning of lands.

Rule 80. Authorising the use of any land for purposes o His Majesty's forces.

Rule 81. Control of trade, business, industry, etc.

17

As far as C. & M. Station, Bangalore and Coorg concerned, an occasion for the use of any of these powe - except perhaps the power to requisition buildings and premises - is not likely to arise; and it does not therefore seem necessary to frame any rules for the awa of compensation, for the present at any rate. If the need for it arises at any moment, an order on the lines of the Madras Govt. notification can be issued at once.

The following Press Communique has been issued by the Ministry of Public Information:-

PRESS COMMUNIQUE
No.88,
Dated, Fort St. George, the 19th September 1939.

Rule 29 of the Defence of India Rules provides as follows:-

Change of name by British subjects.

(1) For the purposes of this rule,--

(a) the expression "name" shall be construed as including a surname, and
(b) a name shall be deemed to be changed if the spelling thereof is altered.

(2) No British subject who is in British India on the day on which the Ordinance came into force shall, while in British India at any time after that day, assume or use or purport to assume or use for any purpose any name other than that by which he was ordinarily known immediately before the said day, unless, at least one month before the day on which he first assumes or uses or purports to assume or use that other name, he has given to the Provincial Government a notice specifying--

(a) his existing name in full and the change which he proposes to make in it, and
(b) the address of his place of residence or place of abode, if any, in British India,

and has complied with such orders in respect of such notice, including orders for giving public intimation of his intention to change his name, as the Provincial Government may give.

(3) In relation to any British subject who, not having been in British India on the day on which the Ordinance came into force, thereafter enters British India, sub-rule (2) shall have effect as if for any reference in that sub-rule to the said day there were substituted a reference to the day on which he first enters British India after the day on which the Ordinance came into force.

(4) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years and shall also be liable to fine.

(5) Nothing in this rule shall apply to the assumption or use--

(a) by any married woman of her husband's name;
(b) of any name in pursuance of a Royal licence, or in consequence of the grant of, or succession to, any rank or title;
(c) of any name in such circumstances as may be specified by order of the Provincial Government.

Under

Under this rule, the Madras Government have issued the following notification:-

NOTIFICATION.

Under sub-rule (2) of rule 29 of the Defence of India Rules, His Excellency the Governor of Madras is hereby pleased to direct

(a) that every notice required to be given under that sub-rule to the Government of Madras shall be given to them through the Commissioner of Police, Madras, if the person giving the notice resides in the City of Madras, and through the District Magistrate concerned if such person resides elsewhere; and

(b) that such person shall also publish in the Fort St. George Gazette a notice of his intention to change his name specifying the particulars referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of the said sub-rule.

Special attention is invited to the provision in the above notification requiring that persons intending to change their names should publish a notice of such intention in the Fort St. George Gazette. The Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, has been instructed to publish such notifications in the Gazette on payment of the requisite fee.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS

Public Department.

The following Press Communique has been issued by the Ministry of Public Information.-

Re-publication of certain important provisions of the Defence of India Rules

PRESS COMMUNIQUE

No. 85

Dated, Fort St. George, the 14th September 1939.

The Defence of India Ordinance 1939 (Ordinance No.V of 1939) and the rules issued thereunder, which have been promulgated for the purpose of giving the Central and Provincial Governments additional powers to ensure the public safety and interest and the defence of British India, impose new duties on citizens and create certain new offences.

The Ordinance and the rules have been published in the Fort St. George Gazette, but for the convenience and information of the general public, the following summary of the more important rules directly affecting the public has been issued. Other rules are applied after the issue of special orders by the Central and Provincial Governments. These will be separately notified.

Rule 6 - Prohibited Places.

(1) No person shall, without the permission of the Central Government, enter, or be on or in, or pass over, or loiter in the vicinity of, any prohibited place.

(2) Where in pursuance of sub-rule (1) any person is granted permission to enter, or to be on or in, or to pass over, a prohibited place, that person shall, while acting under such permission comply with such orders for regulating his conduct as may be given by the Central Government.

(3) Any police officer, or any other person authorised in this behalf by the Central Government, may search any person entering, or seeking to enter, or being on or in a prohibited place, and may detain any such person for the purpose of searching him:

Provided

Provided that no female shall be searched in pursuance of this sub-rule except by a ~~female~~ female.

(4) If any person is in a prohibited place in contravention of this rule, then, ~~without~~ without prejudice to any other proceedings which may be taken against him, he may be removed therefrom by any police officer of by any other person authorised in this behalf by the Central Government.

(5) If any person is in a prohibited place in contravention of any of the provisions of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to fine.

Note.- "Prohibited place" means prohibited place under the Indian Official Secrets Act, 1923. Section 3 of that Act is widened by making the entering, loitering in the vicinity of etc., a prohibited place, an offence regardless of intent. Warning notices ~~will~~ will as far as possible be put up in the vicinity of prohibited places.

Rule 10 - Trespassing on certain premises.

~~10.~~ (1) No person shall --

(a) unlawfully enter or board any vehicle, vessel or aircraft used or appropriated for any of the purposes of His Majesty's service, or ~~trespass~~ trespass on premises in the vicinity of any such vehicle, vessel or aircraft, or

(b) trespass on, or on premises in the vicinity of any premises used or appropriated for any of the purposes of His Majesty's service or for defence against, or protection from, an enemy.

signalling (whether visually or otherwise) which is of such a nature that it could be used for a purpose prejudicial to the efficient prosecution of war and to the defence of British India.

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall apply in relation to -

(a) any wireless telegraphy apparatus as defined in the Indian Wireless Telegraphy Act, 1933, or

(b) Any apparatus forming part of the equipment of any vessel or aircraft, being an apparatus which is required by law to be carried therein.

(3) In any proceedings arising out of an alleged contravention of any of the provisions of this rule, it shall be a defence for the accused to prove that at the date of the alleged contravention, application had been made by him for the first time for the necessary permission in relating to the apparatus or contrivance in respect of which the proceedings are taken, and that the application was still pending at that date.

(4) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to fine.

Rule 19 - Possession and use of means of secret communication.

(1) Subject to any exemptions or conditions for which provision may be made by order of the Central Government, no person shall, except with permission granted by the Central Government, send or convey by post or otherwise from any place in British India to any destination outside India, or to any destination in British India from any place outside India,--

(a) any instructions for utilising any means of secretly conveying, receiving or recording information, including any cipher or code; or

(b) any substance or article manufactured or designed for the purpose of secretly conveying, receiving or recording information; or

(c) any document or other article secretly conveying or recording any information.

(2) The Central Government may, in respect of any area, by ~~notified~~ notified order declare that it is expedient to control the use of means of secret communication therein, and thereupon

the provisions of sub-rule (1) shall apply in relation to that area as they apply in relation to a destination or place outside India.

(3) Any person who has in his possession or under his control any such instructions, substance, document or other article as is mentioned in sub-rule (1) shall, if required by the Central Government by a written order so to do, deliver up those instructions or that substance, document or other article to such authority or person as may be specified in the order.

(4) Nothing in sub-rule (3) shall be taken to prevent the prosecution of any person in respect of a contravention of the provisions of sub-rule (1).

(5) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to fine.

Rule 29 - Change of name by British subjects.

(1) For the purposes of this rule,-

(a) the expression "name" shall be construed as including a surname, and

(b) a name shall be deemed to be changed if the spelling thereof is altered.

(2) No British subject who is in British India on the day on which the Ordinance came into force shall, while in British India at any time after that day, assume or use or purport to assume or use for any purpose any name other than that by which he was ordinarily known immediately before the said day, unless, at least one month before the day on which he first assumes or uses or purports to assume or use that other name, he has given to the Provincial Government a notice specifying--

(a) his existing name in full and the change which he proposes to make in it, and

(b) the address of his place of residence or place of abode, if any, in British India,

and

and has complied with such orders in respect of such notice. including orders for giving public intimation of his intention to change his name, as the Provincial Governmont may give.

(3) In relation to any British subject who, not having been in British India on the day on which the Ordinance came into force, thereafter enters British India, sub-rule (2) shall have effect as if for any reference in that sub-rule to the said day there were substituted a reference to the day on which he first enters British India after the day on which the Ordinance came into force.

(4) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years and shall also be liable to fine.

(5) Nothing in this rule shall apply to the assumption or use -

(a) by any married woman of her husband's name;

(b) of any name in pursuance of a Royal Licence, or in consequence of the grant of, or succession to, any rank or title;

(c) of any name in such circumstances as may be specified by order of the Provincial Government.

NOTE:- A Press Communique setting out the procedure to be followed by British Subjects who desire to change their names will be issued separately.

Rule 30 - Definition of foreigner.-

For the purposes of this Part the expression "foreigner" means a foreigner as defined in the Foreigners Act, 1864, but does not include -

(i) any ruler or subject of an Indian State;

(ii) any native of the tribal areas.

Rule 37 - Communications with persons engaged in assisting the enemy.-

(1) No person having reasonable cause to believe that such other person is engaged in assisting the enemy, shall communicate or associate with any other person.

(2) In any proceedings taken by virtue of sub-rule (1), it shall be a defence for the accused to prove that the purpose of the communication or association in question was not prejudicial to the defence of British India, to the efficient prosecution of war or to the public safety.

(3) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years and shall also be liable to fine.

Rule 38 - Prohibition of prejudicial acts, publications and communications.-

(1) No person shall, without lawful authority or excuse, -

(a) do any prejudicial act; or

(b) obtain, collect, record, elicit, make, print or publish, or distribute or communicate by any means whatsoever to any other person, any information likely to assist the enemy; or

(c) make, print, publish or distribute any document containing, or spread by any other means whatsoever, any prejudicial report; or

PT.O.

(d) make, print, produce, publish or distribute any publication containing, or communicate to any person by any means whatsoever, any confidential information.

(2) The author, editor, printer and publisher of, and any person who otherwise makes or produces, any information likely to assist the enemy, any confidential information or any prejudicial report, and any person who distributes or sells any information or report of that nature, knowing it to be of such nature, shall be deemed to have contravened this rule.

(3) Any person who exhibits, or causes or allows to be exhibited, to the public or to any section of the public any unauthorised cinematograph film containing any information likely to assist the enemy, any confidential information or any prejudicial report or any reference to or representation of any such information or report and the licensee of any building or other premises licensed under the Cinematograph Act, 1918, for giving exhibitions by means of a cinematograph, and the occupier, or, if there is no occupier, the owner, of any other building, or other premises, in or on which any unauthorised cinematograph film as aforesaid is exhibited shall be deemed to have contravened this rule

(4) The proprietor, manager or any other person in control of any place in which, and every person who takes part in any public performance of any play, pantomime, drama or recitation in the course of which any confidential information, any information likely to assist the enemy or any prejudicial report is published shall each be deemed to have contravened this rule.

(5) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years and shall also be liable to fine:

Provided that in any proceedings arising out of a contravention of this rule,-

(a) in relation to the making or printing of any document or information, it shall be a defence for the accused to prove that the said document or information was made or printed, as the case may be, -

(i) before the Ordinance came into force, or

(ii) with the permission or under the authority of Government, or

(iii) as a proof intended for submission to Government or to a person or authority designated by Government in this behalf with a view to obtaining permission for its publication;

(b) in relation to the publication of any document or information, it shall be a defence for the accused to prove that the said document or information was published--

(i) before the Ordinance came into force, or

(ii) with the permission or under the authority of Government.

Rule 39 - Illegal possession of certain information and publications.-

(1) No person shall, without lawful authority or excuse, have in his possession--

(a) any information likely to assist the enemy or any confidential information; or

(b) any document containing any prejudicial report; or

(c) any unauthorised cinematograph film of the nature described in sub-rule (3) of rule 38.

(2) Any person who, without lawful authority, has on any premises in his occupation or under his control any information likely to assist the enemy shall be deemed to have contravened this rule.

(3) Any person who has on any premises in his occupation or under his control any document containing any prejudicial report shall, unless he proves that he did not know or had no reason to suspect that the said document contained any prejudicial report or that he had no intention of transmitting or circulating it or of distributing copies thereof to or amongst other persons, be deemed to have contravened this rule.

(4) The licensee of any building or other premises licensed under the Cinematograph Act, 1918, and the occupier, or, if there is no occupier, the owner, of any other building or other premises, in or on which any unauthorised film as aforesaid is found, shall, unless he proves that the said unauthorised film was in or on such building or other premises without his knowledge or against his consent, be deemed to have contravened this rule.

(5) In any proceedings arising out of a contravention of this rule in respect of the possession of any document or information, it shall be a defence for the accused to prove that the said document or information--

(a) was in his possession with the persmission or under the authority of Government; or

PRESS COMMUNIQUE NO.80.

Dated Fort St. George, the 6th September 1939.

The Ministry of Public Information has issued the following press Communique:-

Press Communique.

It has been brought to the notice of Government that the prices of commodities including some which are essential to the life of the community have been inflated within the past few days in certain parts of the Province and that unnecessary fear and alarm has been and is being caused to the public thereby. There is no justification for the raising of price of any commodity, especially articles of food and the Government view with great disfavour and concern the action of certain tradesmen in trying to take undue advantage of the international conditions. Government trust that tradesmen all over the province will resist the temptation to take such unfair and uncalled for steps, as otherwise Government will be compelled to take strong action under the powers conferred by the Defence of India Ordinance and Rules to restrict and control trade and commerce, even when the War situation has not really affected this country as yet.

MEMORANDUM No.101 U/39-2 dated 19th September 1939.

The attention of District Magistrates, the Commissioner of Police and the Superintendent, Government Press, is drawn to rule 29 of the Defence of India Rules and to the notification published in G.O.No.1553 Public dated 19th September 1939. On receipt by a District Magistrate or the Commissione of Police of a notice from a British subject signifying his intention to change his name, such enquiry as may be necessary should be made to ascertain whether the change is intended for any purpose prejudicial to the efficient prosecution of the war, the defence of British India or the Public safety or order. The notice with the result of the enquiry should then be forwarded to the Chief Secretary to Government. The papers will ultimately be sent to the Superintendent, Special Branch, C.I.D., for retention. The person who has given the notice should at once be informed of the need to publish a notice in the Fort St. George Gazette.

2. When the Superintendent of the Government Press receives a notice of change of name for publication in the Fort St. George Gazette he should see that it contains all the particulars required by clauses (a) and (b) in rule 29 (2) of the Defence of India Rules and if it does he should publish it on payment of the requisite fee. If the particulars are not complete it should be returned to the applicant. In both cases the District Magistrate of the district in which the person resides or the Commissioner of Police in the case of Madras, should be informed.

3. If any contravention of the rule or of the notification is noticed, the District Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police should consider whether it is a fit case for prosecution or whether a warning would suffice.

4. District Magistrates and the Commissioner of Police should report any circumstances in which they consider that under rule 29(5)(c) a person changing his name should be exempted from the necessity of complying with sub-rules (2) and (3).

The above Communique was read at a meeting of my committee for the information of members.

In the case of failure of light which generally occurs after dusk, the owner or occupier of a house is prohibited by the above order to enter the Power House and report the fact to the man on duty and getting his light restored.

I have the honour, therefore, to enquire what procedure should be adopted by owners or occupiers of houses, for reporting cases of failure of lights to Power stations, while the above order remains in force. Awaiting your early reply.
